If table numbers are REALLY needed, remove them as soon as everyone is seated.

If guests have a problem with seating, inform Mr. Lee and have him do the re-arranging

If Mr Lee calls guests in for dinner and says 'sit where you like.' This is not good... people end up only sitting by and talking to the ones they already know and ignore others.

Buy a leather covered board (called a dinner/table board) in the actual shape of the table. The employer inserts slips of paper for each place at the table. You then carry it around and show everyone. 'The seating plan for tonight, sir.'
